Background

In August of 2020, the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy (FSBPT®) sent a survey to accredited physical therapist (PT) and physical therapist assistant (PTA) education programs in the United States. This survey requested information about the textbooks currently used in the education of physical therapists and physical therapist assistants. The purpose of the survey is to ensure that the reference library maintained by FSBPT, which is used in the development of the National Physical Therapy Examination (NPTE), reflects textbooks currently in use in PT and PTA education programs.

The number of textbooks used in a given program is not a reflection of the quality of the program. Please note that the programs that responded to the survey included full lists of textbooks that students are asked to purchase; however, not all of those textbooks are necessarily required for the program. Additionally, the reported textbooks may reflect multiple classes in a program, not all of which may be required to complete a degree.

The textbook titles reported in the top ten lists include the most current editions available as of October 2020. This approach was used because some PT and PTA programs reported using older editions or textbooks rereleased with an electronic version of a printed book. Additionally, some programs report using more than one edition of the same book. Collapsing frequencies across different versions of the same textbook succinctly identifies which titles are being used most frequently by the programs.

The survey requested information about the educational requirements of each program that responded. Of the responding PT programs, seventeen institutions allow individuals to begin a PT program after the individual completes three years of undergraduate courses. Thirty-five of the responding institutions require individuals to obtain a bachelor's degree before beginning a PT program; eight programs indicated educational requirements that vary from the requirements listed above.

The educational requirements for the physical therapy assistant programs are somewhat different. Responses showed that fifty-three PTA programs allow students to begin PTA coursework immediately upon admission to the program. Twelve programs allow students to begin PTA coursework after completing one year of general education courses. Fifteen programs indicated educational requirements that vary from the requirements listed previously. Table 1 summarizes the educational requirements of the programs that responded to the survey.

Table 1: Number of Responding Programs by Educational Requirements

Program Type	Curriculum Type
	PT	3 Years of Undergrad Required	Bachelor's Required
17		35	8
PTA	1-Year Experience	2-Year Integrated	Other
	12*	53	15

*This number includes five programs that indicated both a one-year requirement and another educational requirement.

PT and PTA Program Textbook Survey

Table 2 summarizes the institution type of the responding programs. Institution type is defined as Private, not for profit; Private, for profit; or Public. Of the responding programs, there were thirty PT and thirteen PTA Private, not for profit programs; five PT and six PTA Private, for profit programs; and twenty-five PT and fifty-six PTA Public programs.

Table 2: Number of Responding Programs by Institution Type

Program Type	Institution Type
	Private, not for profit	Private, for profit	Public
PT	30	5	25
PTA	13	6	56

Table 3 summarizes the number of PT and PTA programs that responded to the survey, along with the mean, median, and mode of the number of reported textbooks. A total of sixty PT programs (16.7%) and seventy-five PTA programs (15.8%) responded to the request for textbook data. The average, median, and most frequent number of books reported by PT programs are all twenty-seven. The average, median, and most frequent number of books reported by PTA programs are all fourteen.

Table 3: Summary of Textbook Use by Survey Respondents

Program Type	# of Programs Contacted	# of Responding Programs	Response Rate	Mean # of Textbooks Reported by Programs	Median # of Textbooks Reported by Programs	Mode # of Textbooks Reported by Programs
PT	360	60	16.7%	27	27	27
PTA	474	75	15.8%	14	14	14

The programs were also asked to identify if they participated in distance learning prior to the Coronavirus pandemic. Of the responding programs, thirty-two PT and forty PTA programs did not have distance learning before the pandemic. Twenty-six PT and thirty-three PTA programs reported having distance learning before the pandemic. Two PT and two PTA institutions did not respond.

Figures 1 and 2 are graphical representations of the number of reported textbooks from PT and PTA programs, respectively.

PT and PTA Program Textbook Survey

Appendices

The following appendices include full textbook information (title, author[s], copyright year, edition number, and publisher) along with the frequencies of the textbooks that were reported. Appendices A through F are sorted by level of education required prior to beginning physical therapy coursework; Appendices G through L are sorted by type of institution; Appendices M and N report the top books from distance learning programs; finally, Appendix O includes the full list of textbooks that were reported. As in the body of the report, the textbook titles listed in the appendices represent the most current edition of each textbook currently available, with the exception of Appendix O, which includes all editions of the textbooks reported.
